5.4. NEWSLETTER / MAILCHIMP

Purpose and extent of processing

This website uses the services of MailChimp for sending newsletters. This service is provided by Rocket Science Group LLC, 675 Ponce De Leon Ave NE, Suite 5000, Atlanta, GA 30308, USA.

MailChimp is a service used to, among other things, organise and analyse the distribution of newsletters. If you enter data to receive the newsletter (e.g. e-mail address), the following data will be saved:

- E-mail address
- Date of input and IP address
- Names
- Physical address
- Geographic information such as language or location

MailChimp allows us to analyse our newsletter campaigns. If you open an e-mail sent by MailChimp, a file contained in the e-mail (the “web beacon”) will connect to the MailChimp servers in the USA. This allows the service to determine whether a newsletter message was opened and which links were clicked. Moreover, technical information is collected (e.g. time of access, IP address, browser type and operating system). This information cannot be linked to the respective newsletter recipient. It is exclusively intended for statistical analysis of newsletter campaigns. The results of these analyses can be used to adapt future newsletters more strongly to the interests of recipients. MailChimp shares information with third-party providers.

If you do not want MailChimp to analyse your data, you have to cancel the newsletter. We provide a link to do so in each newsletter message.

Legal basis

The data is processed on the basis of your consent (Art.6(1) a GDPR). You can withdraw this consent at any time by cancelling the newsletter. This will not affect the lawfulness of the data processing operations already carried out.

Transfer to third countries

The collected data will be processed on the servers of MailChimp and will therefore be stored in the following third country:

- USA

We have entered into a contract with the provider of MailChimp containing standard contract provisions, in which the provider undertakes to process your data exclusively according to our instructions and to adhere to the level of data protection applicable in the EU.

Storage duration

The data you have transmitted to us in order to receive the newsletter will be stored by us until you cancel the newsletter. After you cancel the newsletter the data will be deleted from our servers and from the servers of MailChimp within 2 days.

Further information

For further information refer to the data privacy policy of MailChimp at: <https://mailchimp.com/legal/terms/>.

6. DATA PROCESSING BY SERVICES OF THE WEBSITE

- Pages visited on our domain
- Date and time of the server request
- Browser type and browser version
- Operating system used
- Referrer URL
- Host name of the accessing computer

Storage duration

The user session is saved in a session cookie, which will be deleted automatically when you close your browser window.

6.2. GOOGLE ANALYTICS

Purpose and extent of processing

Our website uses functions of the web analysis service Google Analytics. This web analysis service is provided by Google Inc., 1600 Amphitheatre Parkway, Mountain View, CA 94043, USA.

Google Analytics uses “cookies”. These are small text files that are stored on your device by your web browser and enable us to analyse your use of the website. The information generated by the cookie about your use of our website is transmitted to a Google server and stored there. The servers are normally located in the USA.

IP anonymisation

We use Google Analytics together with the IP anonymisation function. This guarantees that your IP address is shortened by Google within the member states of the European Union or other parties to the Agreement on the European Economic Area prior to transmission to the USA. There may be exceptional cases where Google transmits the full IP address to a server in the USA and shortens it there. Google will use this information on our behalf to evaluate your use of the website, to compile reports on website activity and to continue providing other services related to website and internet use for us. The IP address sent by Google Analytics will not be combined with other Google data.

Browser plugin

You can prevent the storage of cookies with your web browser. However, this may limit some of the functions of our website. You can also prevent Google from collecting data on your website use, including your IP address and its subsequent processing. This can be done by downloading and installing the browser plugin available here: tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout.

Demographics with Google Analytics

Our website uses the demographics functions of Google Analytics. This allows reports to be created with information on the age, gender and interests of the visitors to our site. This data is derived from interest-related advertising by Google and from visitor data from third-party providers. This data cannot be linked to a specific individual. You can deactivate this function at any time. This can be done via the display settings in your Google account or by generally prohibiting the collection of your data by Google Analytics as described under "Objection to data collection".

Legal basis

The legal basis for the placement of Google Analytics cookies is your consent according to Art. 6(1) a GDPR.

Objection to data collection

You can prevent Google Analytics from collecting your data by deactivating the tracking function in the Cookie Consent Manager.

Transfer to third countries

Your data will be processed on the servers of Google and will therefore be transmitted to the following third country:

- USA

To comply with all legal data protection regulations we have entered into a contract with Google regarding data processing.

Further information

For details on how user data is handled by Google Analytics, refer to the data privacy policy of Google: support.google.com/analytics/answer/6004245.

6.3. GOOGLE RECAPTCHA

Purpose and extent of processing

To ensure that the inputs in the forms on our website are made by a human and not by an automated third-party program (bot), we use Google reCaptcha.

It uses user behaviour to protect us from spam and therefore ensure operation of our website. The tool also helps us offer you the most user-friendly website possible.

It collects the following personal data:

- Referrer URL
- IP address
- Information about the operating system
- Cookies
- Mouse and keyboard behaviour
- Date and language settings
- All Javascript objects
- Screen resolution

Legal basis

Your data is processed in accordance with Art.6(1) f GDPR based on our legitimate interest in the prevention of misuse and spam.

Transfer to third countries

The data will be processed on the servers of Google and will therefore be transferred to the following third country:

- USA

Further information

The function of the tool requires Google to use and analyse this data even before you click the “I’m not a robot” check box. In the Invisible reCAPTCHA version, the detection process runs completely in the background.

If you would like to prevent data about you and your behaviour from being transmitted to Google, you need to completely log out of your Google account and delete all Google cookies before visiting our website or using the reCAPTCHA software. In general, the data will automatically be transmitted to Google as soon as you open our website. To delete this data again, contact the Google Support at <https://support.google.com/?hl=de&tid=311267981>.

Further information can be found in the data privacy policy of Google: <https://www.google.com/intl/de/policies/privacy/>

6.4. ETRACKER

Purpose and extent of processing

On our website we use the analysis tracking tool etracker Analytics of the German company etracker GmbH, Erste Brunnenstraße 1, D-20459 Hamburg, Germany. etracker Analytics is a software program for collecting and evaluating data about actions taken on our website. We receive analysis reports about how our website is used and can therefore adapt our web presence more strongly to your requirements.

In this context, the following data is collected:

- Pseudonymised user ID
- Pseudonymised mobile device identifier
- Pseudonymised cross-device identifier
- E-mail addresses in the context of overlay newsletter opt-in dialogues

By default, etracker does not use cookies or technologies for tracking on a website, as it is implemented in the “cookie-less mode” through privacy-by-design. In this case only absolutely necessary cookies are placed.

Legal basis

Your data is processed in accordance with Art.6(1) f GDPR based on our legitimate interest in a user-friendly design of our website.

Transfer to third countries

Your data will not be transferred to a third country.

Storage duration

Unlike other technologies, etracker does not collect information from the memory of your device and does not save any data on your device. The data is stored by etracker in Germany and is not used for other purposes or transmitted to third parties.

6.5. PINTEREST AD TAG

Purpose and extent of processing

This website uses the conversion tracking technology “Pinterest Tag” of Pinterest Europe Ltd., Palmerston House, 2nd Floor, Fenian Street, Dublin 2, Ireland (“Pinterest”).

If you have accessed our website from a pin on Pinterest, a cookie will be placed on your device, which interacts with a likewise implemented “tag” in the form of a JavaScript code on Pinterest.

Cookies are small text files stored on your device. These cookies are only valid for 180 days and are not used for personal identification.

If the user is referred to pages of this website by a pin on Pinterest and the cookie has not yet expired, the tag will record specific user actions predefined by us and can track them.

When such an action is performed, your browser will send a HTTP request via the Pinterest tag from the cookie to the Pinterest server containing specific information on the action (for instance type of action, time, browser type of the device). This transmitted data allows Pinterest to create statistics about user behaviour on our website after referral by a Pinterest pin, which allow us to optimise our web presence.

If personal user data is processed in this context, this is in accordance with Art.6(1) f GDPR based on our legitimate interest in the statistical evaluation of the success of product advertisements on Pinterest and the purchasing behaviour of the users and is therefore intended to optimise our web presence.

However, we do not receive information that would allow us to identify the user personally.

If you do not want to participate in this tracking you can object to it by deactivating the cookie of the Pinterest tag conversion tracking in your web browser under user settings. Doing so will ensure that you are not included in the conversion tracking statistics.

Alternatively you can use the deactivation site for consumers from the EU:

<http://www.youronlinechoices.com/de/prferenzmanagement/> to check whether Microsoft has placed advertising cookies in your browser and deactivate these.

If you have accepted the tracking cookies, your data is processed on the basis of your consent according to Art.6(1) a GDPR. You are free to revoke your granted consent at any time with respect to future activity.

Legal basis

The necessary data is processed in accordance with Art.6(1) f GDPR based on our legitimate interest. If you have accepted storage of additional cookies, your data is processed in accordance with Art.6(1) a GDPR on the basis of your consent.

Transfer to third countries

Your data will not be transferred to a third country.

Storage duration

The cookies used have a storage duration of 180 days.

6.6. FACEBOOK PIXEL "FACEBOOK CUSTOM AUDIENCES"

Purpose and extent of processing

Furthermore our website uses the "Facebook pixel" of Facebook Inc. ("Facebook"). This makes it possible for interest-based advertisements ("Facebook Ads") to be displayed to users of our website when they visit the social network Facebook or another website using this function. The Facebook pixel will cause your browser to automatically connect directly to the Facebook Server. We have no influence over the extent and further processing of the data collected by Facebook through the use of this tool and would therefore like to inform you to the best of our knowledge: Integrating the Facebook pixel will cause Facebook to receive the information that you have clicked on an advertisement by us or have accessed the corresponding website of our web presence. If you are registered with a Facebook service, Facebook can link this visit to your account. Even if you are not registered on Facebook or are not logged in, it is possible for the provider to find out your IP address and other identifying features and store these.

Our aim in using the Facebook pixel is to ensure that the Facebook ads placed by us are only displayed to Facebook users who have expressed interest in our web presence. The Facebook pixel is therefore intended to ensure that our Facebook ads match the potential interest of the users and do not appear bothersome. Moreover, the Facebook pixel allows us to track the effectiveness of Facebook ads for statistical purposes by seeing whether a user was referred to our website after clicking a Facebook ad.

Legal basis

The necessary data is processed in accordance with Art.6(1) a GDPR based on your consent.

You can object to use of the Facebook pixel at any time by deactivating the tracking function in the Cookie Consent Manager.

Storage duration

The cookies used have a storage duration of max. 12 months.

Transfer to third countries

Your data will be processed on the servers of Facebook and will therefore be transferred to the following third country:

- USA

This website also uses Hotjar. The provider is Hotjar Ltd., Level 2, St Julians Business Centre, 3, Elia Zammit Street, St Julians STJ 1000, Malta, Europe
(Website: <https://www.hotjar.com>).

Hotjar is a tool for analysing user behaviour on our website. Hotjar allows us to record, among other things, your mouse and scroll movements and clicks. Hotjar can also determine how long your cursor remained at a specific position. Hotjar uses this information to create “heat maps”, which permit us to determine which website areas users look at primarily.

Moreover we can determine how long you remained on one page and when you left it. We can also determine at which point you stopped entering information in a contact form (“conversion funnels”).

Moreover, Hotjar can be used to gather direct feedback from website users. This function serves to improve the website operator’s web presence.

Hotjar uses cookies. Cookies are small text files placed on your computer and stored by your browser. They are intended to make our offer more user-friendly, more effective and safer. In particular, these cookies allow us to determine whether our website was visited using a specific device or whether the functions of Hotjar were deactivated for the browser in question. Hotjar cookies will remain on your device until you delete them.

You can set your browser to notify you when cookies have been placed on your computer, to permit cookies on a one-off basis only, to exclude the acceptance of cookies in certain cases or in general and to delete cookies automatically when the browser is closed. Deactivating cookies may restrict the functions of this website.

Deactivating Hotjar

If you wish to deactivate data collection by Hotjar, click the following link and follow the instructions found there: <https://www.hotjar.com/opt-out>

Please note that Hotjar must be deactivated separately for each browser and for each device.

6.8. VIMEO PLUGIN

Purpose and extent of processing

Our website uses Vimeo plugins to integrate and display video content. The video portal is provided by Vimeo Inc., 555 West 18th Street, New York, New York 10011, USA.

Integration of Vimeo videos allows you to watch videos simply and conveniently directly through our website. Vimeo's videos are embedded in "Do Not Track" mode. According to the provider's information this means that simply opening our website will not transmit any data about you as a user to the respective provider and no user profiles will be created, as long as you do not play the video. Moreover, the video display on our website is deactivated if you have selected in your cookie settings that you do not wish to accept Vimeo cookies. This means that when you simply open a page on which a video is embedded, no cookies of this provider are placed and no data about you as a user is transmitted to the respective third-party providers. The video is only loaded and a connection to the third-party provider's server is established when you deliberately click the "Activate video" button. Once you have done so, the respective provider has the ability to collect user data. No cookies for activity tracking are placed.

Once you have enabled this function by clicking the "Activate video" button, the videos will be loaded on our website and the respective third-party provider Google will receive the URL of the website currently loaded, the IP address of the device used by you and potentially other device-specific information (e.g. browser type). If you have an account with the provider and are currently logged into this account, your data can be linked directly to the account by the respective provider (e.g. which video you are activating). You can prevent this by logging out of your account before playing a video.

Legal basis

The transfer of technically required data to Vimeo is based on your consent according to Art. 6(1) a GDPR.

Transfer to third countries

Your data will be processed on the servers of Vimeo and will therefore be transferred to the following third country:

- USA

Storage duration

Your setting determining whether you give consent to data transmission is saved in the session cookie and will be deleted when you close the browser window. Vimeo does not store any cookies and your user activity will not be tracked.

Further information

For details on how user data is handled, please refer to the Vimeo data privacy policy at:

<https://vimeo.com/privacy>.

6.9. YOUTUBE

Purpose and extent of processing

On our website we use YouTube, a video portal of YouTube LLC., 901 Cherry Ave., 94066 San Bruno, CA, USA.

YouTube is a subsidiary of Google Ireland Limited, Gordon House, Barrow Street, Dublin 4, Ireland

The videos displayed on our website are embedded with the function “expanded data protection mode”. According to Youtube, this function ensures that the data required to display the video is only transmitted to the Youtube server, if you have consented to the use of Youtube cookies and/or are actually playing a video on our website.

This connection is required to display the video in question on our website through your web browser. In this context YouTube will at minimum collect and process your IP address, the date and time and the website visited by you.

If you are logged into your YouTube account at the time, YouTube will link the connection information to your YouTube account. If you would like to prevent this, you either need to log out of your YouTube account before visiting our website or make the relevant settings in your YouTube user account.

Legal basis

We use YouTube in conjunction with the function “expanded data protection mode” to display videos. The legal basis is your consent according to Art.6(1) a GDPR.

6.10. GOOGLE MAPS

Purpose and extent of processing

This website uses the Google Maps service. Google Maps is operated by Google LLC, 1600 Amphitheatre Parkway, Mountain View, CA 94043, USA (hereinafter “Google”). It allows interactive maps to be displayed directly on the website and lets you use the map function in a convenient manner.

When you visit the website, Google receives information indicating that you opened the associated sub-page of our website. This is independent of whether you have a Google user account and are logged into it or whether no such account exists. If you are logged into a Google account, your data will be linked directly to your account. If you do not want your data to be linked to your Google profile, you have to log out of your Google account before activating the button. Google will save your data as a usage profile and will use it for the purpose of advertising, market research and/or requirement-based design of its website. The data will in particular be used in this manner (even for users who are not logged in) to provide customised advertisement and to inform other users of the social network about your activities on our website. You have a right to object against creation of these user profiles, which must be directed to Google.

If you do not want Google to collect, process or use your data via our web presence, you can deactivate JavaScript in your browser settings. However, in this case you may not be able to use our websites fully or at all.

7. SOCIAL MEDIA

Links to social media via image or text links

On our website we also advertise presences on the social networks listed below. These are embedded by means of a linked image of the respective network. Using this linked image prevents a connection with the respective server of the social network from being established automatically when a website with a social media advertisement is opened in order to display an image of the respective network itself through this connection. The user is only referred to the service of the respective social network after clicking on the image in question.

Once the user has been referred, the respective network collects information about the user. In this context it is not possible to exclude the processing of data collected in this manner in third countries.

This primarily applies to data such as IP addresses, date, time and the visited page. If the user is logged into a user account on the respective network at this time, the network provider may be able to link the collected information of the specific visit by the user to the user's personal account. If the user interacts with the network in question through a "Share" button, this information may be saved in the user's personal account and may be published. If the user would like to prevent the collected information from being linked to the user account, the user has to log out of the account before clicking the image. It is also possible to configure the respective user account accordingly.
